A GARDEN OF MANY PARTS--Japanese Numbers for a Japanese Garden

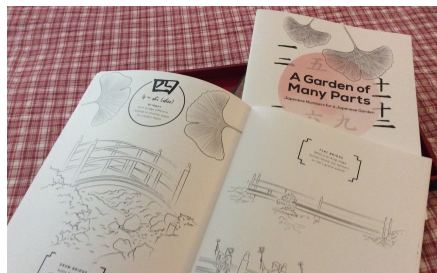

This newly published book became available for purchase at the September Festival. Japanese numbers are used with original drawings and haiku descriptions of Garden attractions. Students and families will find the simple line drawings of Garden scenes just right for coloring or watercolors. Ben Wong and Brooke Coe did the drawings. Japanese Garden Committee member Val Wagner originated the idea and wrote the haiku. The cost is $10.00 and your donations support the Garden.

The worksheet that children use in our field trips for school or scouts is based on our new coloring book. Children locate one waterfall, two shelters, three islands, four bridges, etc. . . as an introduction to our amazing Japanese Garden and they learn Japanese numbers 1-12. Tour worksheets are also available for adult groups upon request.
