

Normandale Community College Internationalization Speaker Series presents

Junauda Petrus-Nasah Writer-Sweetener-Creator

Author, performance artist, filmmaker, and activist Junauda Petrus-Nasah is of Black-Caribbean descent. Her work centers on wildness, Black diasporic-futurism, queerness, ancestral healing, and liberation. Her debut novel, The Stars and The Blackness Between Them, received the Coretta Scott King Book Award, and she was recently named a Jerome Hill Artist Fellow. Junauda will speak about her most recent interdisciplinary work, The Erotics of Abolition, created as part of the Pillsbury House and Theater's Illuminating Legacies project.

junauda.com

February 17th 2:00-3:00pm
<https://minnstate.zoom.us/j/99405053294>

Email Jen Bouchard (jennifer.bouchard@normandale.edu) with questions.
The talk will be captioned.

This event is co-hosted by the NCC International Experience Center and Diversity Center.