HAMILTON'S NEW YORK

Summer Session 1 2026 Travel Course

This travel course focuses on the life, influence, and legacy of Alexander Hamilton, including Hamilton's influence on the American Revolution and the framework of early United States' trade policy. The course culminates in a faculty-led trip to New York City to visit the historic sites of Hamilton's time in New York, before, during, and after the American Revolution while also identifying Hamilton's legacy on America's economic systems today. The experience culminates with a viewing of Broadway's Hamilton – An American Musical. Dates of travel planned June 24-27, 2026.

Tour Itinerary

- Day 1: Fly to New York City. Visit Hamilton Grange, Hamilton's home; walk through Central Park; Stop by the Hamilton Statue at Columbia University; Free evening
- Day 2: Start the day at Battery Park and Castle Clinton before taking the ferry to Ellis Island where you'll learn the story of immigration to America through virtual tours, real stories and interactive exhibits. After, you'll have the rest of the day to spend with your new friends on the tour – visit Liberty Island on the way back to Manhattan, tour the 9/11 Memorial and Museum, head to the top of the Empire State Building, or see a Broadway show. The World Cup is happening just across the river – perhaps you'll get tickets? The possibilities are endless.
- Day 3: It's a full day! We'll spend most of the day in Lower Manhattan really digging into Hamilton's history and legacy. First, the Insider Wall Street Tour takes us to the NY Stock Exchange and Goldman Sachs. Then we'll head into the Federal Reserve for a tour and interactive learning experience in the Fed's museum and learning center. After a lunch break, we'll embark on the "Hamiltour" to visit important sites to Hamilton's life and referenced in the musical. A group dinner will get us ready to attend Hamilton the Musical on Broadway.
- Day 4: After a chance to sleep in a bit and pack your bags, activities will be led by faculty before loading the bus to depart for the airport.
